An allegory, long, but best read in one sitting

I - A Beautiful Young Lady

A beautiful young lady who seemed to be perfect in every way was captured by a vicious and wicked man who took her away into captivity.

A strong young man knew of her beauty and worth and determined to rescue her

After much careful planning and at considerable risk he rescued the young lady and brought her to freedom

Her heart was filled with gratitude and love and she accepted his proposal for marriage

He said, "I want to prepare a perfect place for us to spend the rest of our lives together

"I will go away for a while and get our place ready then I will come back again and we will be united for life

"Until I come you may stay with my family where you will have everything you need

"You will have food
and clothing
and shelter

"You will be protected from the cold and storm and from evil men who would be attracted to your beauty and misuse you

"I ask only that you keep yourself pure for me and set your heart on the things that would make us both happy"

The young lady promised to keep herself for him until he came back

She eagerly awaited his return
But
as the days turned into weeks and the weeks into months she began to lose her first-love

She would leave the safety of his family's home and wander the streets of the city making friends with the people there

She became aware of the desires of her body and began to give herself to men who were interested only in a fleeting moments pleasure

At first she was conscience-stricken and felt remorse for what she was doing but she looked around her and saw that "everyone else" was doing it too

And so as time went on and the groom tarried his coming she became more and more at ease in her waywardness

She even began to take money from men who were eager to indulge themselves in her beauty

She told herself, "I need this to buy the necessities of life"

But she could never quite forget the young man's words
"If you stay with my family you will have everything you need"

One day the young man returned with anticipation in his heart

He had completed the mansion for her

It was perfect in every way and would fill her life with joy forever

He came to her with outstretched arms expecting that she had kept herself for this day

But the moment he saw her he knew that something was wrong

She didn't have the glimmer in her eyes that would show her joy in his coming

She tried to greet him warmly but he knew that he had interrupted her life and interfered with things that were more important to her

He said, "I have come to take you home to the mansion I have prepared for you where we would live together forever

he said
"I see that you have not kept yourself for me and you don't really delight in my coming

"My perfect and pure bride has made herself a prostitute to the wicked men of the city

"Therefore you must leave the home of my family and spend the rest of your life in the streets of the city where your kind of wickedness abounds where there is cold and storm and hunger where men will use you for their pleasure with no respect for your real beauty and
worth

"And I will find another bride who delights in my love enough to keep herself pure for me"

II In the Beginning

In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth

As a very special part of His creation He made man and woman even in His own image

One day Satan came and through deceit led man and woman into captivity

God was watching from heaven and immediately announced that He would rescue them even if it meant death for His own Son

After several thousand years of careful planning and at the expense of the life of His only Son God rescued man and woman and led them to freedom

Their hearts were filled with gratitude and love and they accepted His request that they become members of His family

The Son said, "I am going away for a while to prepare a mansion for you and I will come again and will take you to Myself that where I am there you might be also

"Until I come
I will send another Counselor to be with you and He will lead you into everything good

"I will see that you have everything you need while you are awaiting My return

"You will have food
and clothing
and shelter
and will lack no good thing

"If there is anything you need ask in My Name and I will see that you have it that your joy might be full

"I ask only that you seek the things I seek and keep yourself pure for Me"

The man and woman's hearts were overwhelmed and they promised to keep themselves for Him until He returned

they began to lose their first-love

They began to leave the safety of that place where their minds were fastened on the One who had rescued them

No longer anticipating His imminent return they began to wander the streets of the world and to make friends with the people there

They became aware of the desires within themselves the desire for riches fame prestige security and power

More and more they gave themselves to these desires knowing full well that they gave satisfaction only for a little while

At first they were conscience-stricken and felt remorse for what they were doing because they knew it was displeasing to the One who had rescued them and Who was coming back for them soon

But as they looked around them they saw that "everyone else" was doing these things too

And so as time went on and the One who had bought their freedom tarried His coming they began to feel more and more at ease in these things

They even sought money above everything else saying to themselves "We need it to buy the necessities of life"

But they could not quite forget the words of the One who had rescued them

He had said to them
"Seek first the things of My Kingdom and My righteousness and all of the necessities of life will be given to you"

One day their Savior returned with anticipation in His heart

He had completed the mansion for them

It would be perfect in every way and would fill their lives with joy forever

He came to them with outstretched arms but the moment He saw them He knew something was very wrong

They didn't have the glimmer in their eyes that would show their joy in His coming

They tried to greet Him warmly but He knew He had interrupted their lives and interfered with things that were more important to them

He said
"I have come to take you home to the mansion I have prepared for you where we would live together forever"
"But"
He said
"I see you have not kept yourselves for Me

"You have not trusted in My provision for you and you don't delight in My coming "You for whom I died to set you free from the one who deceived you and led you into captivity have again been deceived and been led astray from your first-love for Me

"My perfect and pure possession for whom I died have sold themselves into the wickedness around them for a fleeting moments pleasure

Even though you pretend to greet me warmly you may not enter into My kingdom which is reserved for those who have done what I asked

"Therefore depart from Me ye cursed into everlasting fire which was prepared for the devil and his angels those who held you captive before I set you free

"I will find the truly righteous those who have done My will and don't just call Me 'Lord' and together we will enter into My mansion forever"

III If it is Really True

If it is really true that man is a special part of God's creation that part alone which is privileged to have fellowship with Him

And
if it is really true that when man decided to reject this love and scorn this fellowship God did not reject him but loved him enough to work through several thousand years of history to work out a plan for his redemption by sending His only Son to literally bear the punishment for all man's sins

And
if it is true that Jesus left this earth for the express purpose of preparing a place for us to spend forever with Him

If it is true that heaven is a reality and Jesus is there today preparing an eternal home for us

And
if it is really so that before He left He promised to send a Counselor from heaven to live inside us and that Counselor came at Pentecost

And
if He has truly called us to be separate from the world and to be conformed to Himself being changed into His likeness more and more

If He asked us to deny the old fleshly desires within us and willingly bear our cross daily cheerfully suffering abuse for Him and the loss of things that bring pleasure for only a fleeting moment

If He really meant what He said when He told us
"As the Father sent Me so send I you"

And
"Not everyone who says to Me
'Lord, Lord' shall enter the Kingdom of Heaven but only he who does the will of My Father Who is in Heaven"

If His commandments stand that we are to love one another and that we are not forgiven if we don't forgive

If Jesus wasn't only kidding when He said "No one can serve two masters for either he will hate the one and love the other or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other you cannot serve God and mammon"

And
if the Bible is speaking to present day Christians when it says
"As obedient children do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance but as He who called you is holy be holy yourself in all your conduct"

And if it is true that Jesus is literally coming back again soon for His church which is His bride and taking only those who have set their hearts and minds on Him and who have kept themselves pure and unspotted
and have looked for His return

And
if hell is a reality and not just fiction or some scare story and if those whose lives do not show that they love Him with all their hearts will be thrown into the lake of fire forever

Then - - - - - ?

IV - Then Why

Then why don't we more earnestly seek fellowship with God?

And why do we reject the love that compelled Jesus to die for us?

Why don't we think of heaven as a reality and live now like we're getting ready to go there instead of living like this world is all there is?

Why do we get so carried away by the cares of this life and exhaust ourselves physically and drain ourselves spiritually and literally destroy families in the pursuit of this world's empty pleasures?

Why do we try to keep up with the ungodly around us for whom the things of life are the best they will ever have?

Why are we so quick to accept the values and goals of this world which is ruled by Satan the one who has eternally set himself against God?

Why do we continue to make excuses for ourselves and try to justify sin in our lives?

Why do we prostitute ourselves by using the gifts God gave us for His glory to fulfill our own sinful lusts and passions in the vain pursuit of self-fulfillment instead of using them in His service to His glory and our lasting joy?

Why are we so often unconcerned about denying the attitudes and habits of the old sinful nature?

Why are we so ashamed of Christ the One who left heaven and came to this earth to literally bear the punishment for our sin?

Why do we refrain from telling others about Him
proclaiming His wonderful name everywhere we go?

Why do we think we can do what we please here on the earth and get into heaven because we have gone to church or avoided certain evils or done certain good deeds or called ourselves "Christian"?

Why do we tolerate the jealousy and bitterness and resentment that so fill our hearts at times?

Why do we allow the gossip and complaining and backbiting that so divide us as God's family?

Why do we refuse to forgive each other?

Why is the thought of Christ's return distant to us so distant that many of us don't even think about it from one month to another?

Why have so many Christians dismissed hell as a reality both for those who call Him "Lord" but don't obey Him and for those who have altogether refused and denied His rule in their lives?

V - It is Simply Because

It is simply because we have again been deceived by the one who deceived Adam and Eve in the garden the one whom Jesus crushed by His death and resurrection for all who believe!

He who has ears to hear let him hear
